Dedication

In dedicating a yearbook, a class endeavors to erect a verbal monument to the amiable qualities of a teacher who has endeared himself to the members of the class and who, by his interest in a class and help to it, has won himself a place in the memory of each of its members.

When we first entered Cheverus, we learned that Latin was a compulsory subject. It was with dread in our hearts that we walked into our first Latin Class. After a few minutes, however, the genial witticisms of Father Corcoran, the teacher of this Subject, put us entirely at ease and his skillful jests removed all fear from our hearts. Having been thus reassured we calmly undertook this study and soon mastered the language of the ancient Romans. To Father Corcoran we owe homage for his sympathy to us as fearsome freshmen.

Besides his duties as teacher of Freshman and Sophomore Latin, Father Corcoran has taken other responsibilities upon himself as leader of extra-curricular activities. As faculty advisor of the Riding Club he has shown his interest in the welfare of the members of our class. His interest in this society has long been the important factor which has maintained it. In his position of coach of the Dramatic Society he has further displayed his keen interest in our class. Without his leadership and advice the existence of this society would cease. With his leadership, the dramatic talents of many are bound together in the annual production of the Senior Class Play.

In dedicating this yearbook to Reverend Father George W. Corcoran, we, the class of 1941, endeavor to show our appreciation to him for his interest in us, the interest he has shown as faculty leader of the Riding Club and Dramatic Society, and to offer to him our thanks for his understanding sympathy.

George Bennett.

JAMES ANGUS BEAUDRY, "Gus," "Curly"

CLASSICAL

Mission Club, I; Glee Club, I, II; Football, III; Basketball, II; Intra-mural Basketball, III; Public Speaking, I, II.

"Gus," an outward exponent of sober aptitudes, is to us, who know him, a possessor of a fine sense of humor. His ticklish tendencies often send us howling with delight in a time when it is needed most. With physical and moral competence, qualities par-excellence, "Curly" will surely fashion himself a lofty niche in the ladder of success.

GEORGE JOHN BENNETT

CLASSICAL

Public Speaking, I, II; Glee Club, I; Intra-mural Basketball, II; French Club, III; Vox, III, IV; Editor-in-Chief, IV; CLARION, IV; Editor-in-Chief, IV.

George is the product of the South Portland side of the bridge and can be acclaimed as one of its best. An English student who ranked in the "A" class, George also found time to cash in with prize winning essays. As if this were not enough to occupy his time, he also handled the job of Editor-in-Chief of the Vox and CLARION, became a master student in Latin, and then a brilliant chemist. With a record such as his, we are confident George will be well on the road to success in the near future. Keep an eye on him.

JOHN NUGENT BURKE, "Johnny"

CLASSICAL

CLARION, IV; French, II, III; League of the Sacred Heart, I, II, III, IV; Glee Club, I, III; Baseball, IV; Intra-mural Basketball, II, III; Debating Club, II, III.

"Johnny" is the kind of graduate of whom Cheverus can be proud. His high scholastic achievements have very frequently elected him to a coveted place on the honor roll. His distinct wit belongs wholly to his own imaginative and active mind, and his freckled face has seen triumphs in abundance at Cheverus. Best of luck, John!

JAMES WILLIAM CARROLL, "Bummy"

COMMERCIAL

Glee Club, I, II; League of Sacred Heart, III, IV; Intra-mural Basketball, II; President of Junior Class, III.

"Jimmy's" small stature encloses no little amount of intelligence. His scholastic prowess has long been evidenced within the portals of Cheverus. His personality and ability will reveal an unerring path to the goal of life, we are sure.

The Clarion

CHARLES FRANCIS CARSON, "Charlie"

COMMERCIAL

Vox, IV; Glee Club, I; Commercial Club, II; Intra-mural Basketball, I, II, III.

Here is the ideal student; quiet, efficient and studious. He has never been spectacular but always steady and ever ready with a helping hand. His is the will that accomplishes what it begins and attains its ideals and height of ambition. For this reason his record in any walk of life to which he adheres, cannot help but be one that anybody would be proud of.

HENRY EDWARD DEROCHE, "Hen"

CLASSICAL

French Club, II; Glee Club, I, II; League of Sacred Heart, I, II, III, IV; Public Speaking, II.

Nothing is too big for this young fellow to conquer and like Napoleon there is no such word as impossible in his vocabulary. Henry, through four successful years, has gained the friendship of us all and should find it easy also to make many friends in the world.

JOSEPH EDWARD DONAHUE, "Joe,"

"Andy"

COMMERCIAL

Promoter of League of the Sacred Heart, II, III, IV; Intra-mural Basketball, II, III, IV; Music, I, II.

Tall, gangling, and freckled, "Joe" has the sign of good nature written all over his jovial countenance. Yet when put to task, "Joe's" determination replaces his good nature. May your flaming red hair be the symbol of your dogged determination in the days to come, and may your good nature bring to you success in every field.

TIMOTHY LEO DONAHUE, JR., "Duke"

COMMERCIAL

Football, II, III; Baseball, I, II, III, IV; Promoter, League of the Sacred Heart, II, III, IV; Canteen, IV; "C" Club, II, III, IV; Glee Club, I, II; Vox, III, IV; Intra-mural Basketball Manager, II, III.

A possessor of one of those rare qualities, charm, "Duke" is one of our best liked students. His quaint smile and pleasing personality has been, through his stay at Cheverus, the sign of friendliness and good nature. A rare enthusiast in all school activities, "Duke" has earned for himself the name of a true student of Cheverus. May his quaint smile and pleasing personality bring for him in the future the many friends that they have brought him here at Cheverus.

PATRICK JOSEPH DUFFY, "Butch," Pat,"
"Slugger"

COMMERCIAL

"Pat" is one of those fortunate fellows who had talent combined with aggressiveness. Every task which he undertakes is usually accomplished with success. Besides participating in athletics, "Pat" was a member of the School Bank and frequently his name graced the Honor Roll. With these rare qualities he should go far in reaping a ripe harvest.

JOHN FRANCIS FLAHERTY, "Silent,"
"Senator"

COMMERCIAL

Intra-mural Basketball, II, III, IV; League of Sacred Heart, IV; Baseball, IV; Music, I, II.

Here is a boy who believes in taking his time, but do not judge him by this lack of speed. A wealth of wit behind a sombre expression, best describes John; slow, but sure, quiet, but funny, John, through his four years at Cheverus, has brought us many good times. May his keen wit and sombre expression bring his future friends the enjoyment that they have brought to us at Cheverus.

RICHARD LOUIS FLAHERTY, "Dick,"
"Rick"

CLASSICAL

CLARION, IV; League of Sacred Heart, I, II, III, IV; Riding Club President, I, II; Football, II, III; Glee Club, I, II; Dramatics, IV; French, Club, III.

"Dick" is the tall blond of the class. He is extremely ambitious and a regular guy in every respect. Manliness, politeness and alertness are qualities which "Dick" possesses. His fondness for history gives him a broad education, and he is undoubtedly an authority upon the subject. He will go far in the world, and we wish him the best of luck. He will undoubtedly become one of our great industrialists.

JOHN JOSEPH FOLAN, "Wizard"

CLASSICAL

Mission Club, I; French Club, II, III; Glee Club, I, II, III, IV; Public Speaking, I, II, III; Canteen, IV; Debating, I, II; Vox, III, IV; Dramatic Club, I, II, IV; League of Sacred Heart, I, II, III, IV.

Anything which may be said here is superfluous, for John is a student known and cherished by the entire school. His ready replies and quick wit have been a big factor in making our school days happy ones. The "Wizard," as he is most appropriately called because of his quickness of thought and alertness of action, has all the qualifications to become a big success in any field he might pioneer.

The Clarion

JOHN JOSEPH FOLEY, "Bullet"

COMMERCIAL

Football, II, III, IV; Basketball, II, III, IV; Captain, IV; Baseball, II, III, IV; "C" Club, II, III, IV; Vice-President, III; League of the Sacred Heart, II, III, IV; Music, I, III.

The fact that he is called "Bullet" should forcefully describe his talent, but lest you forget, he has been among the best athletically and otherwise, through four years. Hard work and brains have both played a part in school and in athletics, and we at Cheverus feel confident that you will come through against the best. We are sure, too, that the confidence we have felt when you were in there fighting for us, will be manifest to all.

MARTIN ANTHONY FOLEY, "Mert"

COMMERCIAL

Glee Club, I, II; Public Speaking, I, II; Intra-mural Basketball, II, III; Vox, IV; League of Sacred Heart, II, III, IV.

"Mert" is "parvus sed magnus," small of stature but huge of heart. According to him, the key to success is a sunny smile and the secret of popularity is a ready wit. More than once have his harmless but witty puns come to the rescue of a student reciting without knowledge. In the future, his smile should win him a fruitful future and his wit should bring him an abundance of loyal friends.

JAMES EYMARD FORESTELL, "Whitie"

COMMERCIAL

Music, I; League of the Sacred Heart, II; Public Speaking, II; Vox, III, IV.

While in Cheverus, "Whitie" has had the label of an industrious and capable student. These two attributes when coupled, as they are, with an outstanding sense of humor and the will to learn should serve him well as an alumnus.

HAROLD FRANCIS GATO, "Bucky"

COMMERCIAL

Football, II, III, IV; Basketball, II; Baseball, II, III, IV; Glee Club, II; Golf, III; League of Sacred Heart, II, III, IV; "C" Club, III, IV.

"Bucky" is one of our diminutive athletes. His undying spirit is in evidence in all his work whether it be on the field of athletics or in the classroom. He is one of those fellows whose sober mind is never too serious to provide a good laugh. With these qualities of joviality and perseverance, Harold undoubtedly has the requisites of a successful business man.

The Clarion

CLASSICAL

Vox, I; French Club, III; Le Chevalier, III; Public Speaking, II; Glee Club, I, II; Frosh Reception, II; Chairman, CLARION, IV; Intra-murals, III, IV; Dramatics, IV.

The possessor of a prodigious memory, "Chauncey" is one of the premier mathematicians of this class. In solving the enigmas of algebra and geometry John's brilliant mind is most talented. His learning, however, is not confined to these subjects for in the studies of history, Latin, English and religion, he also excels. John's abilities will surely make him "tops" in his chosen profession.

EDWIN RICHARD HANDLON, "Ed"

"Eddie" is one of the brilliant students in the class. He is serious by nature and always willing to work. After school hours he is ready for whatever the boys have arranged. He is a good companion with a pleasing disposition, which accounts for the large numbers of friends which he has made at Cheverus. His success is bound to come, because of his ambition and determination, and Cheverus wishes him the best of luck.

WILLIAM JOSEPH JENNINGS, "Willie"

COMMERCIAL

Intra-mural Basketball (Manager), II, III; French Club, III; Glee Club, II, III; Commercial Club, II; League of the Sacred Heart, II, III, IV.

JOHN JOSEPH JOYCE, "Jabber"

COMMERCIAL

Intra-mural Basketball, I, II, III; Glee Club, II, III.

During his four years at Cheverus "Johnny's" smile and quiet wit have made him many friends. However, in the classroom his endeavors prove him to be an earnest student possessed of a business mind capable of leading him to success in any field.

The Clarion

"Rusty," always a fixture on Cheverus teams, has won his way into the hearts of all Cheverus fans. His school spirit, second to none, displayed both in studies and athletics, is admired by all. May this same spirit be an incentive for him in his surge to greater heights.

GEORGE KELLY, "Cowboy," "Gentleman George"

CLASSICAL

League of Sacred Heart, I, II, III, IV; Intra-murals, II, III; Basketball, II, III; Public Speaking, II, III; French Club, III.

George is our idea of a gentleman and a scholar. His polite manners and pleasing personality have won for him the respect of the faculty and his fellow classmates. Coming from the "hill," Kelly has never allowed the distance to hinder him in his attempt to be always on time, or has it? We believe that George will be a worthy representative of Cheverus wherever he goes.

EDWARD JOHN KILMARTIN, "Ed"

CLASSICAL

Vox Discipulorum, III, IV; CLARION, IV; French Club, III; Glee Club, I, II; Riding Club, I, II; League of the Sacred Heart, I, II, III, IV; Baseball, IV; Basketball, I; Debating, v; II, III; Intramural Basketball, II, III.

Edward Kilmartin—"Ed" is another worthy representative of the "Dimmer Domain." As sports editor of the Vox and CLARION he has proven the fertility of his brain. Proficient in all his studies, popular among his fellow students, and a Latin scholar of the first water, "Ed's" future is surely loaded with success. May his fertile brain and likeable personality pave his road of life with prosperity.

WILLIAM CARROLL KILROY, "Bill"

CLASSICAL

French Club, III; Glee Club; Baseball, IV; Intramural Basketball, II, III; Public Speaking, I, II; League of Sacred Heart, I, II, III, IV.

"Bill's" pleasing wit and comical arguments with his teachers, concerning his marks, have earned for him an enviable position in the eyes of his classmates. However, "Bill" believes that there is a time and place for everything and when he is called upon to recite, the lazy fellows breath more easily. Best of luck, "Bill."

The Clarion

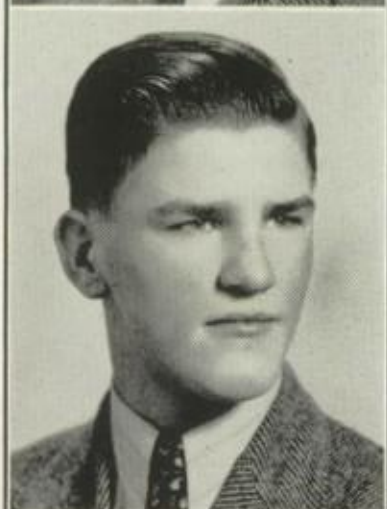

JOHN FRANCIS LOGUE, "Doc"

CLASSICAL

Football, II, III, IV; Riding Club, I, II, III; French Club, III; Glee Club, I, II; Public Speaking, II; Frosh Reception, II, III; Intramural Sports, II, III; Dramatics, IV.

A handsome appearance together with a keen mind have aided "Johnnie" to reach his scholastic pedestal. "Johnnie" has played an important role in the football togs of Cheverus, and his genial acceptance of school work has added immeasurably to his success. We feel certain that "Johnnie's" suave and irresistible countenance will be ranked high among the greats of tomorrow.

"Harry"

COMMERCIAL

CLARION, Business Manager; Glee Club, I, II; Vox, IV; Freshman Reception, League of Sacred Heart, I, II, III, IV; Bank Manager, IV; Public Speaking, I, II.

Energy, competency and reliability, certainly don't spell Harold, but they can be justly used to describe his character. Always popular amongst his classmates, he climaxed his high school career in a blaze of glory by being named business manager of the CLARION. That coveted virtue of leadership, which he has displayed throughout his school days, ought to contribute greatly to the attainment of any goal of which he might be desirous.

PATRICK MARTIN LAWRENCE LYDON,
"Pat"

COMMERCIAL

Baseball, I; League of Sacred Heart; Riding Club; Glee Club, I; Intra-mural, II, III.

The originator of seemingly hundreds of catch phrases, Patrick has in his years at the school made friends aplenty by his rollicking good humor, his numerous capabilities and his unfailing friendliness.

WALTER HENRY MAGGS, "Albie," "Wally"

COMMERCIAL

Debating, III, IV; Vox, III, IV; CLARION, IV; French Club, III; Commercial Club; Intra-mural Basketball, III.

A two year student here "Maggsie" is the possessor of a unique personality which will always be remembered. A steadfast worker on the Vox Discipulorum, a valuable member of the debating club, and the author of many a mirth-provoking witticism, Walter has proven himself a true son of Cheverus. May his success be as evident as his good will and as consequential as his smile.

ROBERT DALY GREGORY MALIA, "Red," "Doc"

CLASSICAL

Glee Club, I; Football Manager, II, III, IV; Basketball Manager, II; CLARION, IV; Class Treasurer, I; Vox, II.

"Red" in his four years at Cheverus had endeared himself to the hearts of all of us. Especially likeable are his carefree manner and gratiating personality. Intellectual orchids, too, go to this auburn-haired lad whose destiny, with these capabilities seems to be one of great success.

COMMERCIAL

Baseball, I, II, III; Football, I, II, III, IV; Basketball, I, II, III, IV; Glee Club, I, II; Canteen, IV; CLARION, Business Board, IV; Debating, I, II.

"Eddie" is the athlete of this year's class. A three-letter man during his entire stay at Cheverus, "Eddie" has always been an ideal student. Perhaps his most noteworthy achievement was his play on the polished court. The "Dribbler," as he was dubbed by basketball followers, did much to establish Cheverus' superiority on the basketball court during its reign as Western Maine and State Champs. "Ed's" versatility has served him well, and may his cheerful personality bring him a position and happiness in future life.

PHILIP JAMES McAVOY, "Phil"

CLASSICAL

"Phil" McAvoy, only a name perhaps, but a symbol at Cheverus. A symbol of the carefree, rollicking spirit of the Fighting Irish in athletic activities, and of a more serious vein at study. "Phil" certainly is a fine example of a scholar-athlete. He has been an asset to our teams in all forms of athletics and a leader in the classroom in all of his studies. We know later successes shall follow in the tracks of his triumphs here. Best of luck to you, "Phil."

The Clarion

This young gentleman is a true Cheverian. His active participation in school affairs and his unlimitable cheering in the sports auditorium have rendered him the reputation of a fine fellow. "Joe," besides being a fine sportsman, is also a true scholar. He has compiled a fine standard at Cheverus, a standard, both irrefutable and admirable. May his future be filled with limitless success. May it flow into his walk of life in a plentiful abundance.

CLASSICAL

CLARION, IV; Vox, I; Glee Club, I, II; French Club, III; Vice-President of French Club; French Paper, III; Assistant Editor of Paper, III; Freshman Reception Committee, II; Intra-mural Basketball, II, IV; Senators, IV.

Here we have the essence of conservatism. "Ed" is a steady, easy going fellow who lives and lets live, taking each obstacle as it comes along, a policy not a few men have found successful in the past, and we feel sure that "Ed's" knowledge and ability will be his armor in the world into which he now ventures.

JOSEPH RICHARD McDONOUGH, "Joe,"

COMMERCIAL

Glee Club, I, II; League of Sacred Heart, I, II, III, IV; Football, IV; Public Speaking, I, II; Intra-mural Basketball, I, II, III; Freshman Reception Committee; CLARION, Business Board, IV; Vox, IV.

Virgil wrote much about his fair Apollo, so it is only right that we say a few words about our "Joe." Besides being one of the better-looking boys of the class he has also painted a pretty picture on his scholastic record. His determination, perseverance and self-confidence coupled with set ideas ought to aid him immeasurably in scaling the ladder of success.

By far one of the most popular boys in the school, we are sure he will carve for himself a comfortable niche in life after graduation.

JOHN JAMES MCGINNIS, "Mac"

CLASSICAL

CLARION, IV; League of Sacred Heart, IV; Dramatic Club, IV; Class Play, IV.

"Mac" is one of those unforgettable fellows from across the million-dollar bridge. A one-year student here, he has made an enviable record worthy of imitating. In this short time, he has won for himself a position on the editorial board of the CLARION, a laudable feat difficult to accomplish even in four years. John's ambition has won for him a place in our memories. In the future, this same quality will boost him high in the ranks of his chosen profession.

HUBERT McGOVERN, "Hubie"

COMMERCIAL

"Hubie" is the author of more than one comical expression at Cheverus. However, his humor is subjugated to his seriousness in class. His helping hand is the secret of his popularity. May the business world now give "Hubie" the helping hand which he has for so long been offering to others.

HERBERT McNEIL, "Herb"

COMMERCIAL

"Mac" is a true Irishman from Cheverus. Witty when allowable, serious when advisable, and always loyal, he has marked himself as a "personality kid." His numerous friends have taken to him because of his willingness to aid others. Keep it up, "Herb," and your success is inevitable.

RICHARD THOMAS MULLIN, "Archie"

One has but to know "Archie" for a short while when his steadfast personality and loyalty will become evident. Dick's invaluable gift of leadership in the athletic, musical and scholastic fields, no doubt forecasts for him a brilliant future.

but worthwhile and happy life. Our graduation into the world frightens us; his graduation to God, was an achievement which all aspire to attain. His graduation present was a crown of stars which the elements can never tarnish or break, and can never be taken from him. At our commencement exercises we will don scholarly caps and gowns; "Brownie's" robe was a mantle of sanctity. Truly then is the graduation of Roland Brown much greater and more glorious than ours. And, when Death visits us and presents us with our last diploma, a passport to a different world, we are certain that Roland Brown will be inside the Gates of Heaven waiting to greet and welcome each of us to a new and perfect home. Until the happy and eventful day, we pray, and we know our prayer is answered, "Requiescat in pace,"—"May he rest in peace."

A class of some sixty odd Cheverians is graduating into the world this year, into a world which knows no decency, which has forgotten the Ten Commandments, whose inhabitants have no love for each other, only hate and fear, which has tried to obliterate morality, to destroy religion, and to crush Godliness. The phrase "into the cruel world" was never so true as it is now. For, who of us can decree the time of his death or the place or conditions? We may die tomorrow with our soul blackened by sin, or we may not live until tomorrow. To die alone, unabsolved, on a foreign battlefield, is a horrible thought. But today it is a dreadful possibility; maybe tomorrow it will be a grim reality.

Roland Brown was taken from this chaotic earth by Death, the dispatcher of men's souls. "Brownie" died and his soul was borne aloft to God by angels. This was the graduation which crowned his short,

This is the second year of the Cheverus Debating Club, under the able direction of Rev. Peter J. Flanagan.

The subject for this year's team to discuss was: "Resolved, That the power of the federal government should be increased. It was a subject which led to many interesting debates. The Debating Club began the year by turning out en masse for the Round Robin Tournament at South Portland High. Besides winning four debates, we garnered much experience in delivery and material. Determined to show its potency, the negative team trekked to Damariscotta where they were repelled by Lincoln Academy's affirmative team by a 2-1 decision. The affirmative made up for this, however, by trouncing Cony High's negative by an unanimous 3-0 decision with A. Mulkern carrying off the honors for eloquence. This made four points gained in two debates and a chance in the Bates Debating Tournament, and the Debating Club has pledged that if it gets that chance it will fight to the end to attain victory.

In October, under the supervision of Rev. Armand E. Cyr, about twenty-three students responded to a call for the establishing of a French Club, Le Cercle Bayard. The club also edited a French paper, "Le Chevalier," which was entirely the accomplishment of the under-classmen. It was supervised by Alfred E. Mulkern, '41, and Richard W. Rowe, '41.

We extend to the next year members our most sincere wishes for a successful year.

League of the Sacred Heart

This is the 4th anniversary of the League of Sacred Heart and it has progressed with the same coöperation and enthusiasm of other years. Earlier in the school year, our principal, Reverend Father Davis, appointed new promoters to carry out the excellent work of their predecessors of previous years. This they did wholeheartedly and willingly.

The activities of the organization are many. Primarily, the promoters appointed, must attempt to enroll new members and have them pass their degrees. Upon completion of these requirements, the student becomes a member of the League of the Sacred Heart. Secondly, once a month, the promoters distribute the leaflets of the league, which contain a special prayer and the particular intention of that same month. At the end of each month, the promoters submit a report of any new members enrolled and any special intention the members desire.

It is through the endless labour of Father Davis that this league has become one of the most important functions of our extra-curricular activities.

One of the foremost ambitions of every Cheverus student is to some day earn a coveted "C", which enrolls him in the exalted ranks of the lettermen. The attaining of a letter is considered such a worthy accomplishment, because by realizing this ambition one is made a member of that stalwart band of men who have carried the banners of Cheverus in years gone by.

Sweaters are awarded in football at the end of the year in which they are earned. For baseball and basketball this student receives his sweater when he has completed his senior year.

Those who have participated in varsity athletics this year, thus earning a sweater and becoming a real "Fighting Irishman," are:—Robert Malia, John Nixon, Harold Gato, John Logue, John Wallace, Everett O'Brien, John Butkis, Peter Dipietrantonio, William Ramsey, Richard LaRose, Robert Siedel.

"Cheerleaders 1941"

The cheering squad this year consisted of seven members, three girls and four boys. They were, in order: Peggy Koulavatos, '41, Helen McCue, '41, June McCullum, '42, Paul Quinn, '41, Joseph McCarthy, '41, John Haley, '42, and Robert Hanley, '43. Altogether these leaders had a profitable year. Starting out in the fall with but three holdovers from last year, they soon formed a capable and peppy squad, under the careful supervision of the Faculty Director of Athletics, Father Ward.

Several new cheers were invented but only one stood the test of careful elimination. This was the now well-known "Fight Irish Fight!" This, together with the "Straight C," "The Locomotive," "The Thunder Cheer," the "Clap and Whistle," and the "Team Yell," afforded a sufficiency of cheers.

As the year went on the squad increased its fervor through frequent practice and at the end of the basketball season had reached a point somewhere in the vicinity of near-perfection.

We of the Cheering Squad would like to thank Father Ward for his patience, Mr. Whitmore for his coöperation in affording transportation to the tournament, and the entire school for their kind indulgence.

Junior Class Chronicles

On September 9, 1940, sixty-four young men, full of enthusiasm and vigor, entered Cheverus High School to become Juniors. Of these sixty-four, forty-two are taking the Commercial Course, while the remaining twenty-two elected the Classical.

The Junior Class was fairly well represented in all of the School Activities.

Among the members of the Debating Club, coached by Father Flanagan, there were Roland Levesque, William Foley, Thomas Earles, and Vincent Tatarczuk. All of the boys made a creditable showing in this art and all showed promise of becoming first-class debators next year. William Foley served as Vice-President of this club.

The following were members of the French Club: Cyril Colton, Stephen Mulkern, James Busby, Thomas Earles, Vincent Tatarczuk, and Roland Levesque. Vincent Tatarczuk was elected to act as Secretary for this Club.

In March, a Vocational Guidance Program was established for the entire school. Father Cyr was appointed to supervise the Classical division, while Father Delaney had charge of the Commercial students. The officers for the Classical Division are: Roland Levesque and Vincent Tatarczuk, while those for the Commercial group are: Thomas King, Michael Chisolm, and John Wallace.

Once again the class of '42 was well represented on the athletic teams. In football, "Johnny" Butkis, "Bunny" Larose, John P. Connolly, "Vit" Cullinan, "Obie" O'Brien, and "Pete" DiPietrantonio, were bulwarks in the Cheverus line, while "Johnny" Wallace, "Billy" Berry, and John Welch played well in the backfield.

In basketball, Billy Berry was the only Junior on the starting five, but "Pete" McDonald, "Turk" Murphy, Frankie Walsh, James Busby and "Frannie" McFarland saw action as Jayvees.

The Juniors decorated the "Honor Roll" quite frequently this year. Among these were: James Busby, Stephen Mulkern, Vincent Tatarczuk, William McDonough, Bartley Conley, Thomas Earles, Roland Levesque, and "last but not least," Michael O'Toole.

And so, our Junior year has ended. Some may be a bit disappointed, but I believe most of us are happy, now that our ultimate goal—"Graduation"—is but a year away from us.

Early in September, sixty-three of the freshmen of the preceding year returned to Cheverus as Sophomores.

Immediately after enrolling, these students were divided into two groups—Sophomore A, those taking the classical course, and those studying commercial subjects.

In keeping with the tradition, the election of class officers turned out to be a hard-fought battle. The voting completed, and the ballots counted, those chosen were revealed to be:—George Mullins, President; Michael Brennan, Vice-President; Marty O'Connor, Secretary; and Richard Gill, Treasurer.

Soon after school had opened, the French Club, Le Cercle Bayard, resumed its activities. Among the members were such excellent Frenchmen as:—James Hannigan, John Monahan, Richard Clancy, and Richard Tetreau. A sophomore, Richard Clancy, was chosen treasurer of the Club.

The Cheverus Debating Club promptly recommended its activities. Here, too, Sophomores were outstanding. Richard Foley, Robert Thorndike, Robert Hyde, Richard Clancy, William O'Donnell, John Monahan, and Richard Tetreau, and Edward Rowe, all Sophomores, established themselves as future debaters. Over and above this, Richard Foley was elected Secretary of the Club.

This class did quite well along scholastic lines. Each period saw a goodly number of Sophomores on the Honor Roll. Those whose names have appeared in that coveted place are:—James Ham, John Monahan, James Hannigan, John Flaherty, Joseph Joyce, and Richard Tetreau.

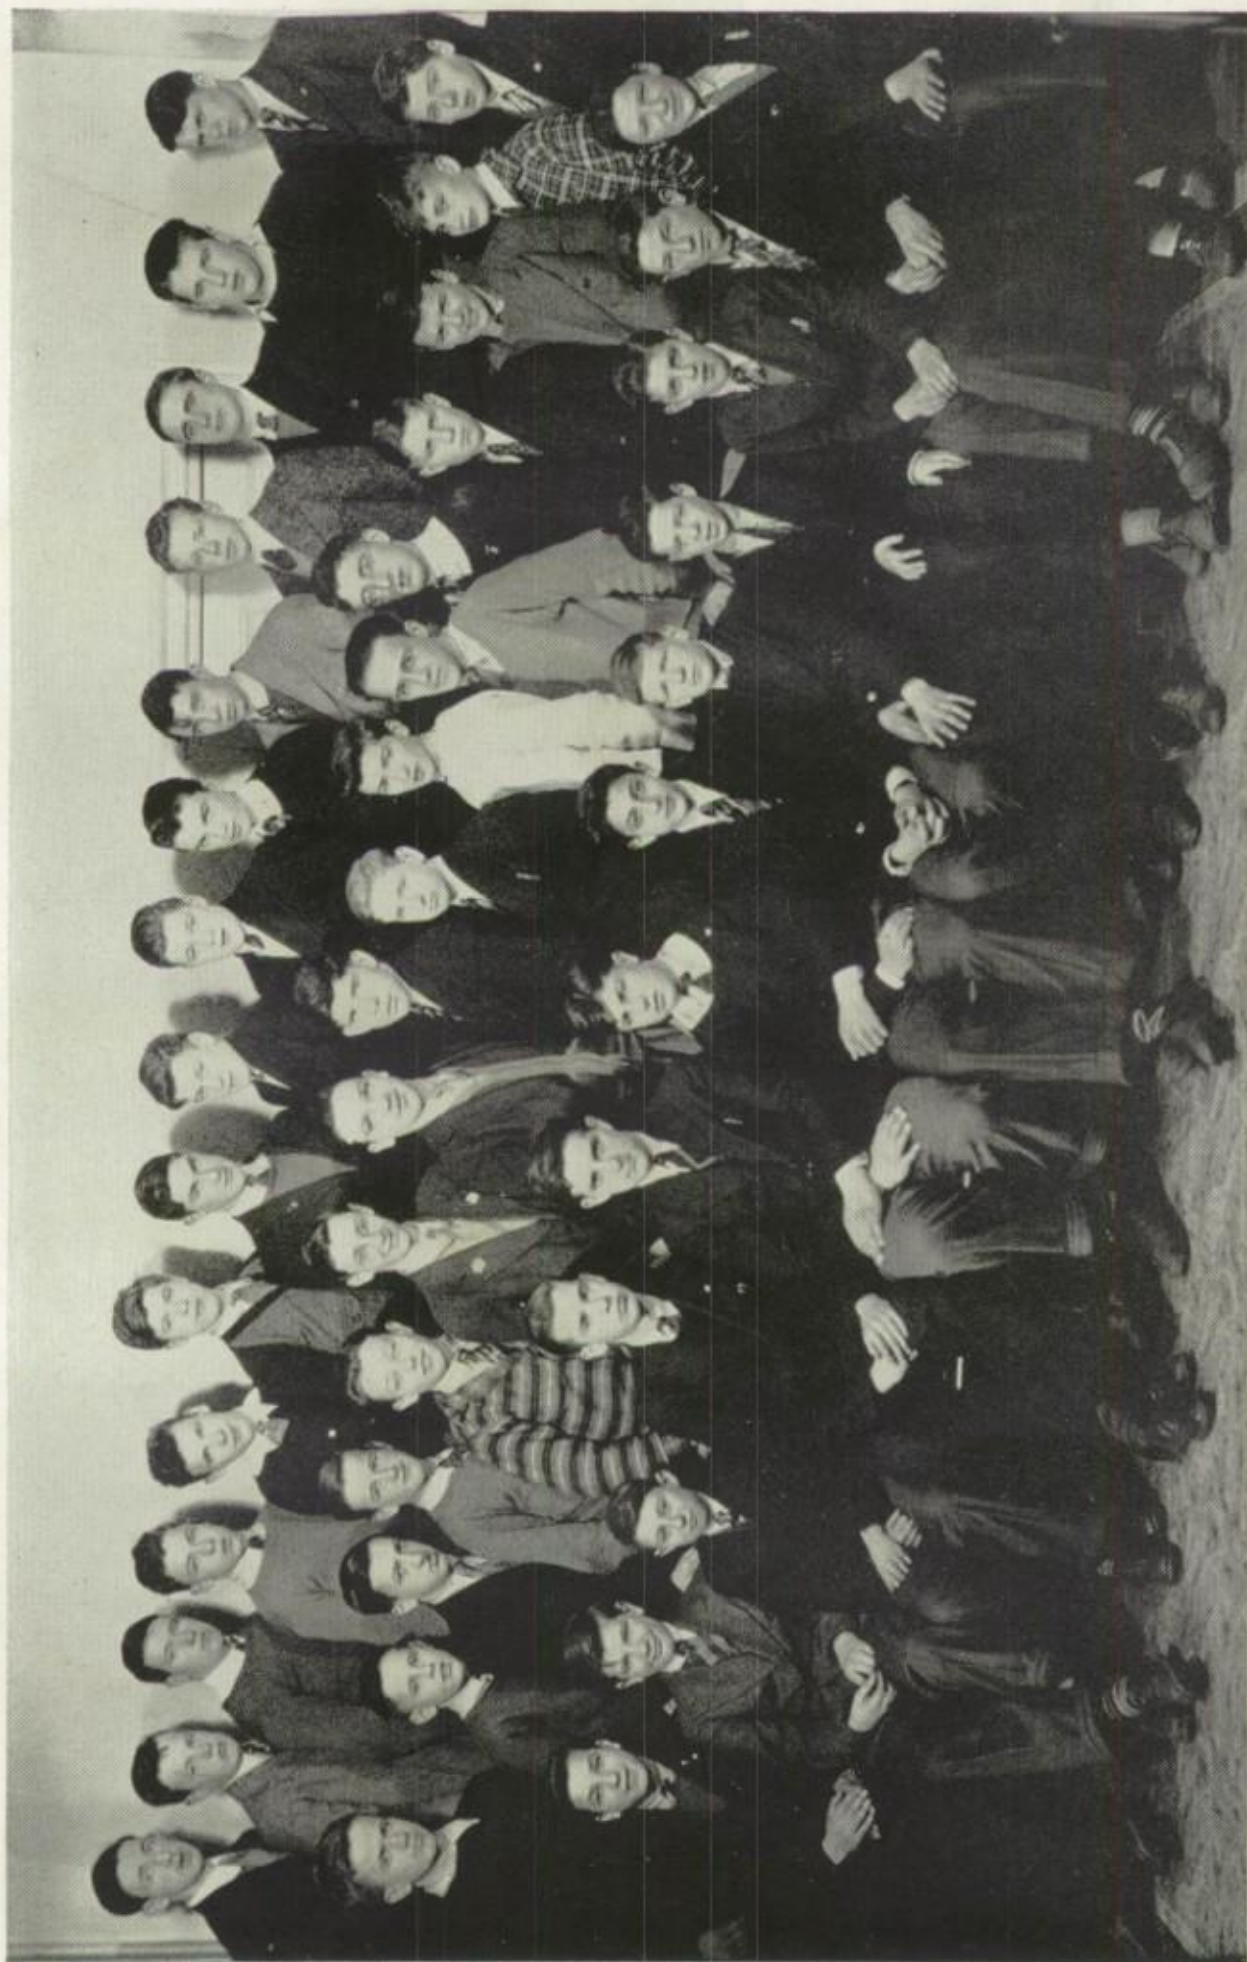

Shortly after the start of the third period, a new plan was inaugurated. The Students' Guidance Committee, which was to meet every Tuesday, was formed. Each Home Room had its own Faculty adviser and its own set of officers.

The faculty adviser for Sophomore A, was Father Honan; for Sophomore B, Mr. Cochran. The officers were:—for Sophomore A, Chairman, James Ham; Secretary, John Monahan; Treasurer, James Hannigan; for Sophomore B, Chairman, Michael Fassairis; Secretary, Marty O'Connor, Treasurer.

Now in June the Sophomores will leave Cheverus for three months, happy with the thought that they have completed the first half of their high-school education, and that next year, as Juniors, they will begin their second.

Freshman Class Chronicles

"High School is a cinch," was the general comment of the Freshmen, after the marks for the first quarter of the 1940-41 school term had been announced. Although this view underwent considerable alterations as school commenced in earnest, at the half, the first honor roll was graced by the names of John Beckford, Vincent Carson, Thomas Conley, Raymond Duran, Edwin Gallant, Roland Knight, John LaPointe and Arthur McDermott.

Beginning on Tuesday the 4th of March, the vocational guidance program was held each week thereafter, on Tuesday, and proved very popular with the Freshmen. It consists of a discussion by the students of each division, generally about some phase of school life, selected by the chairman of each particular division. In Freshman A, the Chairman was John LaPointe, and the Secretary, William Mahoney; in Freshman B, the Chairman was Edmund Kearns, and the Secretary, Francis Pulsoni; in Freshman C, the Chairman was Louis Pomerleau, and the Secretary, Richard Kemp.

Three Freshmen—James Flaherty, John Sullivan and Richard Kemp—were members of the football team, furnishing material for an efficient squad in future years.

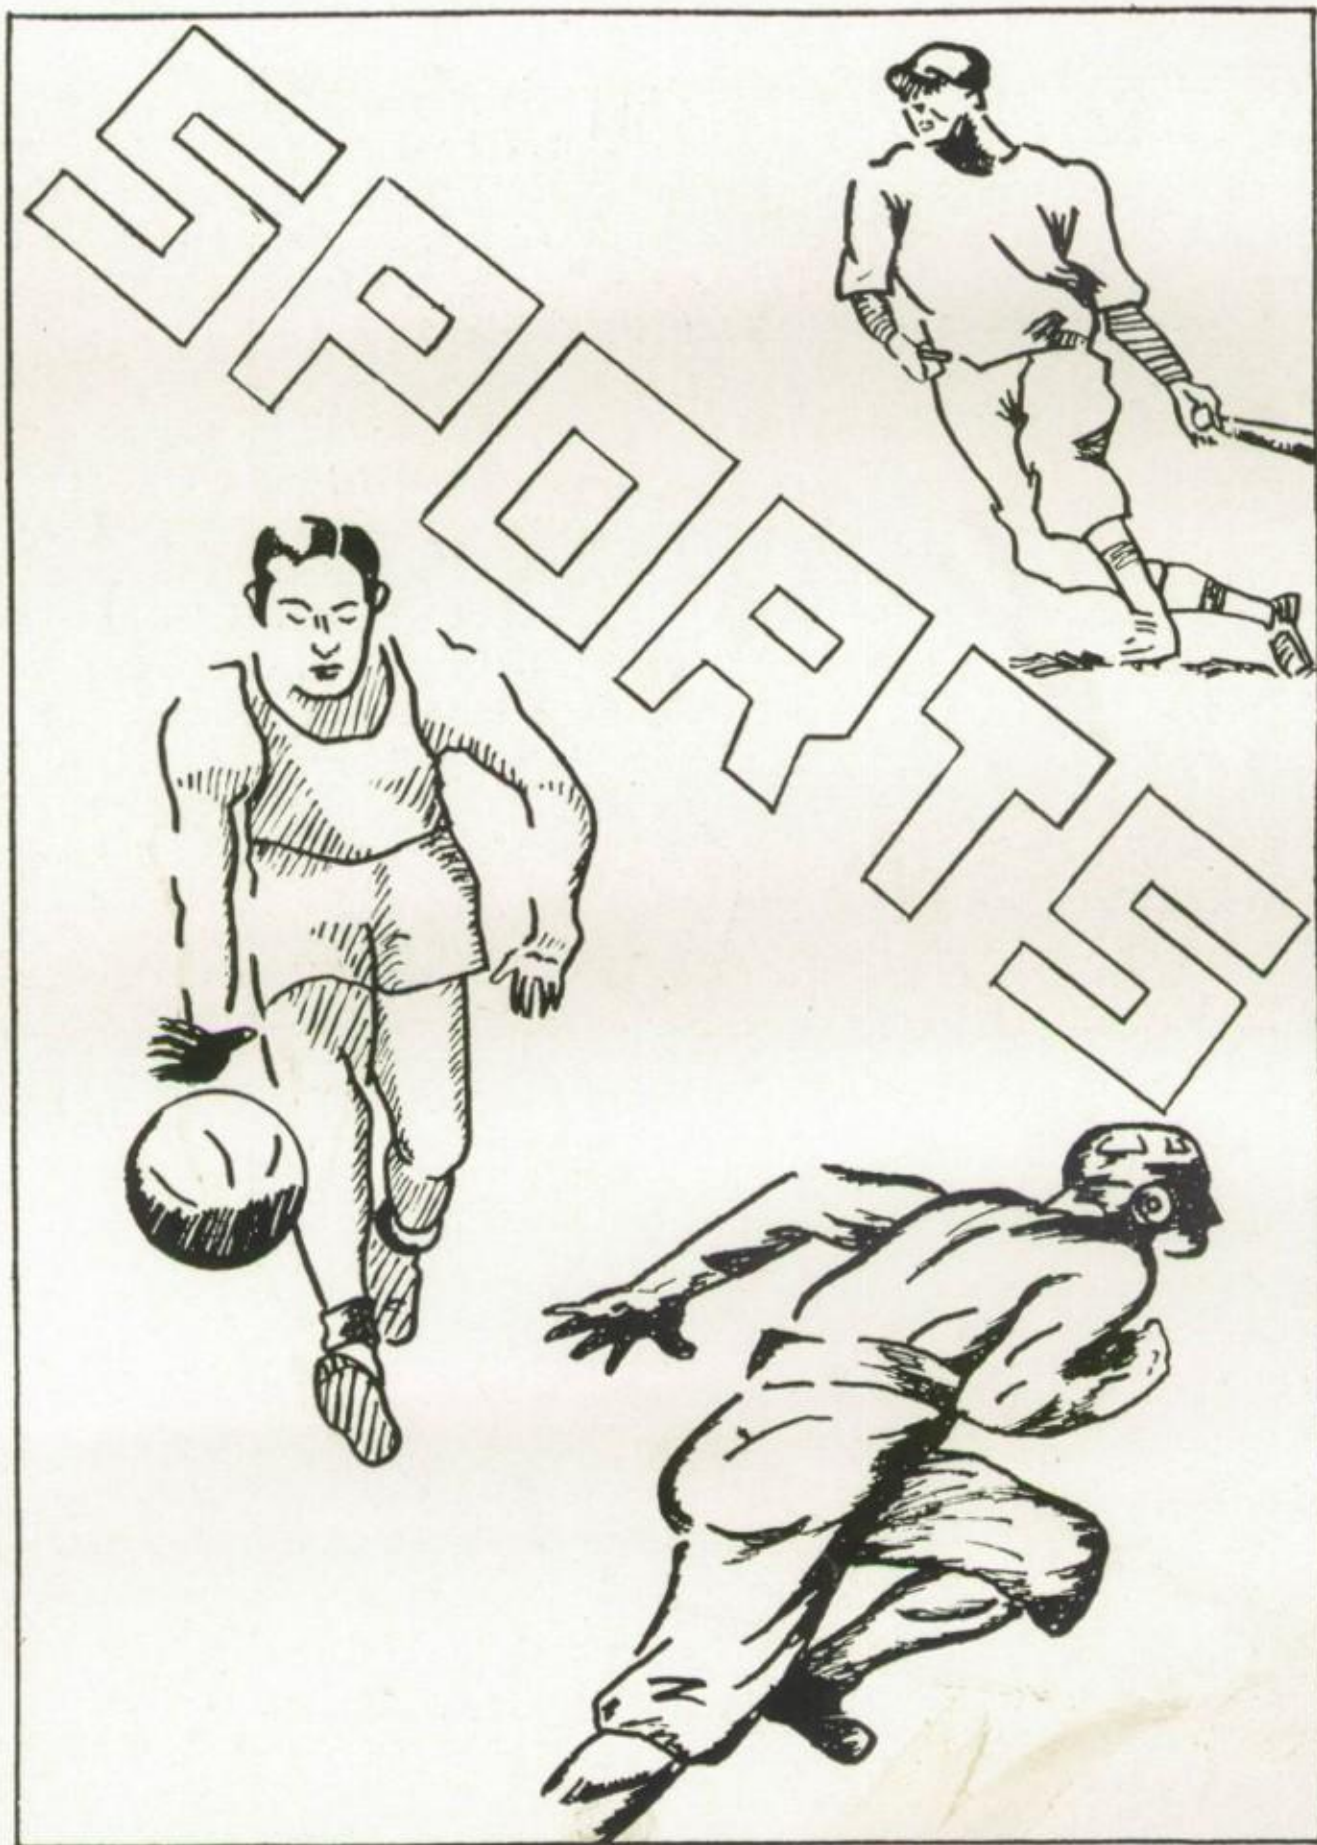

The debating team, directed by Father Flannagan, was strengthened by three enthusiastic newcomers—John Coppinger, Raymond Duran and George Farris.

Basketball, the most successful sport of Cheverus High, is also the strong sport of the Freshman Class, as indicated by the ability of the Freshman Basketeers—Richard Coyne, James Flaherty, Martin Kane, William Mahoney and John Sullivan. Freshman John Sullivan will help to recompense Cheverus for the loss of her star hoopmen who are graduating this year, being already a member of the varsity, and a high scorer in every game in which he has played.

The "Vox" has been enriched by the contributions of Joseph Connary, John Coppinger, Arnold Shuman, James Koulovatos, Lionel Cassidy, James Dawson, Thomas Conley, John Bickford, John LaPoint and William Kelly.

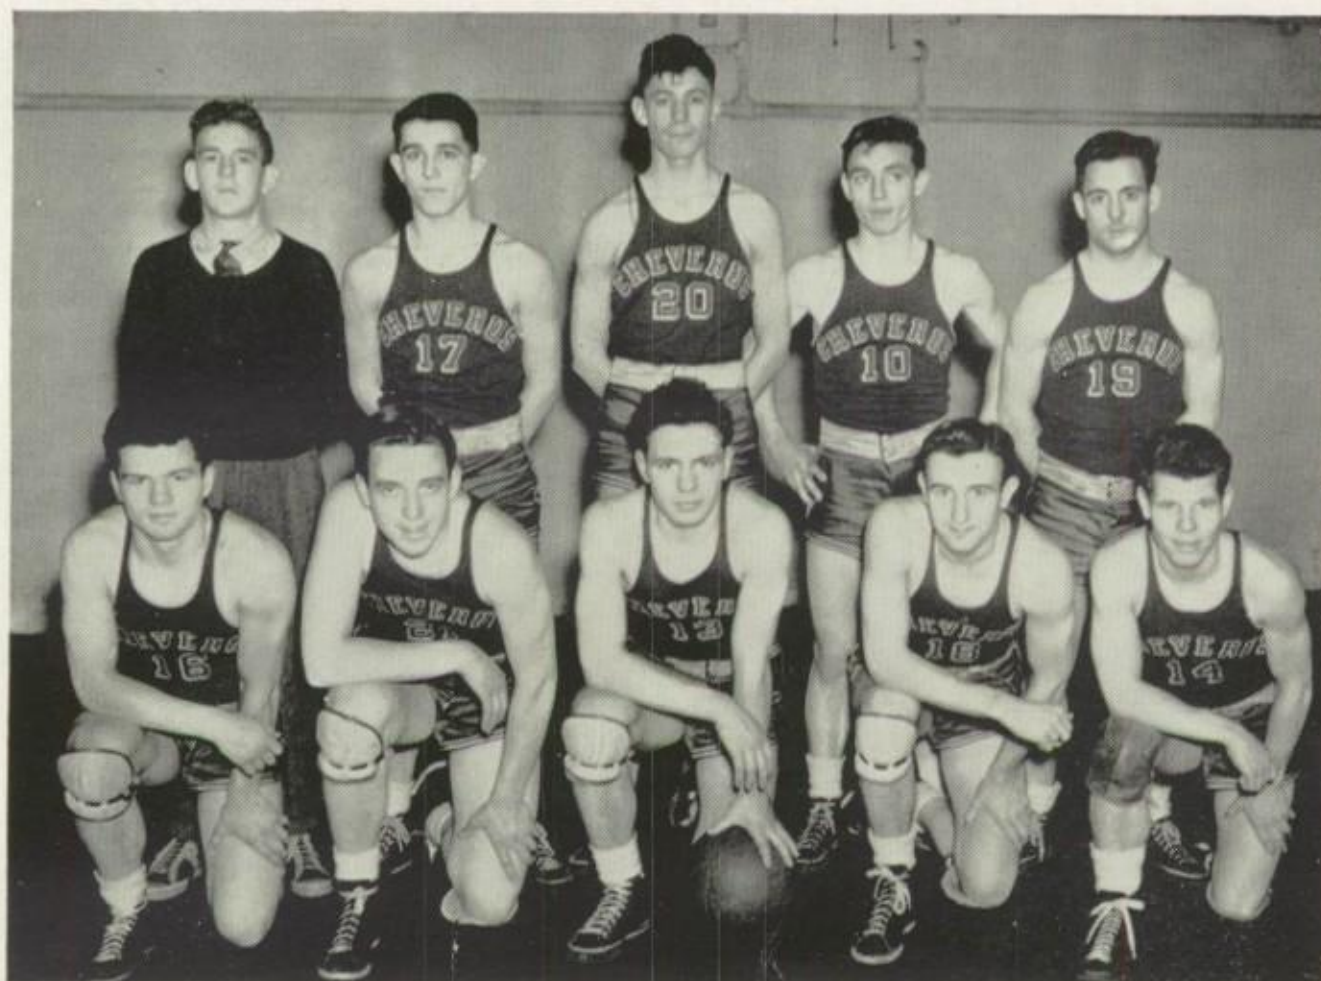

Soon we will take that long-awaited step and will no longer be classed as "those Freshmen."

Opening practices were held at the Cathedral Gym which once more has become the seat from which the Irish teams will blossom. After about a week of seeding out players, Dicka finally got down to strenuous work, and not without promising material. Indeed, a bright season was hinted by the appearance of such veterans as that pair of speedy forwards, Eddie Manning and Captain John Foley, big Phil McAvoy at center, and Bill Berry teaming with Dave Thornton at guards, to make the starting nucleus. Also John Nixon, Eddie Ridge, two veterans of last year's brigade, were due to see plenty of action, together with the "find" of the year, "Buddy" Sullivan, who although only a freshman showed that he had the ability and fight to become a member of the varsity squad. Fred McCarty, a six-foot center, demonstrated great ability and the dexterity to fill Phil McAvoy's shoes at the pivot position, which he did nobly in the latter part of the season.

The Clarion

As was expected of the Purple quintet with such a large array of lettermen, they came through a rough season in an honorable style, losing only three of fifteen games against high school competition, and never being beaten by the same team twice.

The Whitmorites opened against a super-grad team and went down in defeat as was expected. However, when they met Sanford at the Expo on the following week, a team of their own bracket, the Irish, paced by high-scoring Phil McAvoy, swept over the Plushtowners in neat fashion. Westbrook, Biddeford, Rumford, followed in succession, and the Free Streeters now had four wins chalked up. Lewiston, however, in their own court coasted over the Irish in a dogged contest. Morse followed and drew more blood. It now was apparent that Cheverus was in a slump, but a decisive victory over Portland changed the minds of even the Sports Reporters, for this was an important game. Urged on by this win, the boys downed Biddeford, then Deering and Waterville in order. Morse, who had previously taken the measure of the Irish, now were toppled by them in a sizzler.

Except for the Waterville and Bowdoin Frosh games the rest of the slate was unblemished and the Purple and Gold entered the Southwestern Maine Tournament as one of the top aggregations. But with the loss of Eddie Manning after the last Morse game and with Phil McAvoy hospitalized for the week previous to the playoff, it was evident that the team was badly crippled.

Nevertheless, they went into the preliminary game as a slight favorite. However, Stevens High of Rumford proved to be the tourney's dark horse and after a thrilling see-saw battle flipped in a set-up shot to top the Irish, 19-18.

Graduation will hit Cheverus harder than it has in three years, by taking Eddie Manning, John Foley, Phil McAvoy, Dave Thornton, Pat Duffy, Eddie Ridge, and John Nixon.

Returning next fall will be four veterans, Billy Berry, Buddy Sullivan, Fred McCarty, and Turk Murphy. Johnny Butkis, Frankie Walsh, Frannie McFarland, Jimmy Ham, Pete McDonald, all showed excellent promise this year on the second team and should be donning varsity uniforms in the near future.

Edward Kilmartin.

With a bright outlook in view, the Cheverus gridsters commenced another trying and rigorous schedule. The ever-present injury jinx, however, cropped up at crucial moments and prevented the Irish from fielding a potent unit at any time during the campaign.

Prying off the lid in the annual Round Robin game, the Irish showed flashes of greatness with a team composed of Phil McAvoy, Bullet Foley, Eddie Manning, Pat Duffy, Hymie Wernig, John Connoly, and other capable talent. A tabulation of the season's accomplishments was recorded, however, defeated in six engagements. In many of these battles, had the fates been a and revealed that the Purple and Gold posted but one victory and were little kinder, the outcome might have been a little different.

In the opening fracas, the Free Streeters were ambushed by the superior forces of Thornton Academy, and went down, fighting bitterly, before the Maroon and Gold horde, 38 to 6. Signal caller Eddie Manning registered the lone Irish tally after receiving an aerial and dashing 67 yards for a touchdown.

The following week the Cheverians played host to a rugged Deering eleven, and succumbed, 24 to 6. For two periods it was an interesting contest. In the third frame, however, Phil McAvoy was removed from the embroligo with a badly injured shoulder. The loss of their ace running back hampered the uptown purple offence, and the Suburbanites had little trouble in overwhelming the Cheverus forces.

A week later the Irish encountered a surprisingly strong Rumford outfit and were beaten back by a 9 to 2 count. Cheverus advanced the ball inside the Panther ten-yard stripe several times during the afternoon but due to their lack of scoring punch failed to dent the scoring station.

Sanford and Biddeford mastered the Chevies by the identical score of 13 to 0, after staving off futile scoring drives on the part of the desperate Irish. It is to be noted that the Biddies' victory over the Cheverus gridsters was their first ever registered.

And now the season's classic! Glorious in defeat, and heads held high in the knowledge of a noble attempt, the boys from the Institute proved once again why they are called the "Fighting Irish." Thrown against a vaunted Portland juggernaut, a mere handful of Irish gladiators, for a full three periods, instilled fear into the hearts of the potent Bulldogs; and although they were forced to bow to a brace of last period touchdowns, they did so with a remarkable display of gridiron grit. Out-played, but far from out-fought, the entire Cheverus team turned in a splendid performance. The running of Phil McAvoy and Bullet Foley was a constant threat to the Blue; and the entire forward wall did yeoman work, constantly harrassing Portland's backs.

The Free Street Irish wound up their season the following week with a 13 to 7 victory over a hard-fighting Waterville High eleven. The Elm City eleven scored first, and were leading at half-time, 7 to 0. The Irish, however, sparked by Foley and McAvoy, drove back viciously in the second half, and pushed over two markers to bring home the bacon for the first time during the season. A sustained drive of 93 yards gave up the winning touchdown with Phil McAvoy plunging over into the end zone with but five seconds remaining in the game.

Pat Duffy, Bullet Foley, and Phil McAvoy, were among those who received berths on the All-City Eleven.

Graduation this June will remove the following men from the roster: Captain Pat Duffy, John Logue, Hyme Wernig, Chic Nixon, Bullet Foley and Phil McAvoy.

Next year things should go fairly well with the Irish. Coach Whitmore has the following returning for duty: John Welsh, Bob Siedel, John Connolly, Timmy Dufour, John Wallace, Billy Ramsay, and Linwood O'Brion.

Baseball 1941

With Coach Whitmore molding his team and his hopes around one of the most capable batterys in the circuit, Cheverus baseball aspirants commenced another strenuous campaign. To date Cheverus has shown flashes of greatness and have established themselves as a potential threat for the bunting. Creditable performances have been turned in by Foley, Sullivan, Dufour, LaRose, O'Connell, Thornton, and McAvoy.

The Irish willow-wielders opened the season by dropping a disheartening 8-7 tussle to a potent Sanford nine. Although the Irish outhit the plushtowners 11-7 they were not equal to the effectiveness of the Sanford sluggers in the crucial moments. For the Irish, LaRose's sticking was outstanding, while Dufour and O'Connell and Sullivan all played a commendable game.

Thornton Academy is the next foe of the Free Streeters and with Flinging Phil on deck the Cheverians have expressed fond hopes of smashing into the win column.

Talking over the situation

Safe by a palm

Every June, a new class is graduated from Cheverus High. These graduates, splendid as they are, are swiftly ushered into the many diverse stations of life. Dame Fortune smiles on some of them by presenting a further opportunity to resume their educational endeavors. Others are received into the business world, while others, still, are accepted into the forces of our army and navy.

As a result of their first fundamental training, Cheverus graduates are hurriedly received into institutions of higher learning. Here they progress remarkably well, much to the enjoyment of the former acquaintances and professors.

Let us first glance at the graduates of the Class of 1940. John Clancy and Thomas Marley are at Holy Cross; James Ridge is at St. Anselm's; Thomas Coyne is at Colby College; Thomas Scahill is employed by the John J. Nissen Co.; Richard Kilroy is at Gorham Normal; Thomas LaPointe is employed at the A. & P. Stores; Joseph Joyce is employed at the George T. Springer Co.; and Wayne Sudborough and Walter Sweeney are in the U. S. Army, while Francis Crosier is attending a naval institution.

The Class of 1939 presents a favorable report: Leonard McDowell is attending Holy Cross; Lockley Jennings and John McCallum are attending Colby College; Thomas Gillespie is employed by the Gannett Publishing Company; Wendell McDowell and Patrick Slattery are employed by the Maine Central Railroad; Joseph Coyne is at St. Michael's College in Vermont.

The Clarion

The Cheverus graduates of 1938 are doing fine. Edward Walsh is attending Holy Cross; Joseph McNeil is at St. Michael's College; John Crozier is at St. Joseph's University in New Brunswick; Russell Perrault, X-ray technician at New Hampshire Naval Hospital; Philip Fox, Gannett Publishing Company; Robert Mulkern is employed at the Portland Company.

Scanning over the Class of 1937, we find John Scahill is at the University of Ottawa; Louis Renaud at Holy Cross; Joseph Borque at the University of Maine; John Frydel at St. Joseph's University; Charles Loring at F. J. O'Hara Company.

In like manner, we are extremely pleased with the class of 1936. John Dimmer is at the University of Maine; Thomas Joyce, attending a Canadian Seminary; A. J. Peverada, Mareau Seminary, Notre Dame, Indiana.

The professors of Cheverus, the students of Cheverus, and the Alumni and friends of Cheverus are greatly pleased with the reports of Cheverus' graduates. A Cheverus man is, indeed, a distinctive man. He is prepared for life, materially and spiritually. The Almighty Spirit has blessed us immensely. Let us join in thanking Him for His gifts, and ask and beseech Him to keep that shower of benefits falling immemorially.

Alfred E. Mulkern, '41.
